

How can we share God's love with someone who might feel left out?